

DESIGN YOUR ACTION PACKED CREATIVE YEAR!

What is the one big goal that will be the driving force behind your year?

What are the secondary projects that you will work on this year?

These are secondary goals that might be related to the different hats you wear in your work like content creation or networking) or be areas of your business plan, digital products. Simplicity is your friend here.

What steps would you like to take toward these in the next three months?

Think three months out, and no more! You already have your big overarching themes - so stay grounded by focusing on what you can do now. What would be challenging? What's reasonable, given the time you have and what your life looks like? Make sure your steps are actionable and necessary. If you can simplify, you should.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Alright, let's sort out your gorgeous goals!

Intentions are great - but actions are a hundred times better. So take the list you just made, and let's sort them into stacks that will make them actionable. Everything you have listed here might not fit into the next three months. That's fine - that's what the backburner is for. You can come back to these in three months and move them to the top of your list.

This Month

Next Month

Following Month

---

The Backburner

---

Congratulations! Start crossing these off your list and living this out.